ALL SORTS.

This is pay-day at the V. & T. shops.

The weather has taken another encouraging turn.

M. Gilligan will open his shoe store today, and will throw a big stock of fine foot gear at the Carson public. He has come to stay and be "one of us."

Prof. Anderson's entertainment to be given at the Opera House tomorrow night as a farewell testimonial promises to be a pleasing affair, and with sparring, singing, dancing, wrestling and music, all who attend ought to be satisfied, and Prof. Anderson's host of friends will all be there.

In speaking of the performance of Si Plunkard, which is billed for the Opera House Tuesday the 14, instant, a commercial traveler of a large wholesale Eastern house, who was registered at one of our hotels here, said: "I want to see that company the other evening and witness a good show. Old Si is a circus in himself, and if you want to enjoy a good laugh, from eight o'clock until half past ten, take in Si Plunkard the first chance you get." Our jolly drummers generally know how to enjoy a good thing when they find it.

New Shoe House.

Allen and Burlingame have opened their new shoestore opposite the U. S. Government Building with a full stock. Both gentlemen are Nevada men whose interests are entirely in this State. They propose to meet the people of Carson in the matter of foot-gear and our citizens can well afford to give them a call. Ladies' shoes of all the Eastern patterns can be found here. Patronize your own merchants and keep the circulating medium with the corporate limits.

A Suggestion.

Had the fire companies known of the existence of a reservoir in Mr. Cagwin's yard, they might have taken the steamer there and squelched the flames.

It might be a good idea for the city to offer a reward of $5 to each drayman who takes a steamer to a fire, and $3 for the service for each hose-cart. A few moments saved by galloping horses would in many instances, save thousands of dollars worth of property.

Surgical.

On Wednesday Dr. Herdan, the eminent specialist, successfully operated on the throat of J. Stendrup, of Bodie, for the disease known to the profession as sarngitis follicularis, at the Muller house. Mr. Stendrup has been suffering for some months, and the Doctor informed an APPEAL reporter that he would be able to return home in a day or two. It was a very complicated case, and an operation was necessary.

Greater Bargains Than Ever.

I have 30,000 cigars that I will sell at wholesale prices by the box; also 300 lbs. of smoking and chewing tobacco and many other things too numerous to mention.

My goods will be all marked so that all will be treated alike. Goods must be sold; come one come all. m14 G. S. HAWKINS.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

Electricity and Fruit Culture Combined.

During the past week an item has been going the rounds that Major Frank McLaughlin of Oroville, is setting out 16,000 orange trees on his Thermalito tract in Butte county.

The secret of his sudden conversion to orange culture as a money-making proposition, is because it has been demonstrated that the ripening of oranges can be materially hastened by the use of electricity. Some years ago Edison, who is a great personal friend of McLaughlin, made some experiments by which he hastened the growth of roses and geraniums by the use of a mild current of electricity.

The Scientific American in 1882 gave a short account of these experiments, but nothing more was thought of them until last summer, when McLaughlin spoke of the experiments to Senator Jones of Butte, the agent of his Thermalito land.

Jones began some experiments along with Mr. Fogg the Banker, and as a result it was demonstrated that out of twelve trees, the six treated with electricity ripened at least three weeks before the other.

In the experiments the cost of maintaining a very gentle current, did not cost over five cents per tree for the season. The wires extended from trunk to trunk being wound round just below the branches; very fine wire was used and the main element of success is the force of the current.

Chemical electricity was used and a few jars will make a battery capable of supplying a grove of 100 trees.

The main secret of success is to have the current properly regulated, or the fruit ripens too fast and decays. Another trouble is the necessity of taking the wires up when the land is cultivated. Jones however, has partly remedied this by having the wires so that they can be unhooked and allowed to hang by the trees, while plowing is going on.

Since Jones has demonstrated that the electric treatment not only hastens the ripening process, but causes the insects to desert the trees, McLaughlin has become a convert to Jones' plan of orange culture and is now planting a big grove.

The electricity does not result in any larger or better fruit, it simply accelerates the growth. It is quite probable that other fruits can be advantageously treated in the same way. The advantages of an early market for such fruits is obvious.

Cattle Shipments.

Nine cars of beef cattle were shipped from Reno Wednesday morning to Grayson Owens & Co. of San Francisco.

One car of beef cattle was shipped to Gerlach of Stockton.

Eight cars of cattle from Winnemucca for Colonel Hardin were re-shipped from Reno to San Francisco, and three cars of cattle were sent to Santa Rosa.

Five car loads of beef cattle for Geo. W. Mapers arrived from Belleville Tuesday night. They came in over the C. & C. and V. T. roads, and will remain here a while before re-shipment.

The Virginia Masquerade.

There is as much interest expressed in Carson over the N. N. G. masquerade as there is in Virginia, and a large crowd of masquers will go up from here, as well as from all along the line of the V. & T. on the special train provided for the occasion. Madam Peter is on hand in Virginia with a large variety of costumes, and you needn't take a costume up with you if you don't want to.

The special will leave for Virginia at 6 o'clock sharp this evening. Tickets including admittance to dance and round trip $1.75.

For the next 30 days a reduction of 10 to 20 per cent, on every price of goods at Golden's to reduce the immense stock of goods on hand. Call and secure bargains. m6

TIN PLATE INDUSTRY.

And the Treaty-Making Power of the U. S. Illustrated.

From the recent speech of Congressman McKinley at Worcester, Massachusetts, the following pertinent extracts are given, which show the effect of the McKinley Tariff Act on the treaty-making power of the United States. In the course of his speech he said, I was in Tennessee ten days ago in that busy and industrious city of Chattanooga. I was there on the occasion when they were celebrating for the first time the successful manufacture in the South of basic steel from their ores and from their coal, and around that banquetting table were seated 400 gentlemen, Southerners and Northerners, and on that elegant banquetting table for one of the courses every guest had a tin plate [laughter and applause] made out of the basic steel that was made from the tin ores that came from the Black Hills, made in American shops in the city of St. Louis, by American workmen, and it was as good as it could have been made anywhere in the world. [Applause.]

Ab, but they say, what they want is the foreign market. There are some people who delight in nothing so much as what is foreign.

We do want a foreign market, and we are getting it under the tariff law of 1890.

Wegot it under the recent treaty with Brazil [applause], and we get it, as my friends Senator Hoar and Mr. Walker know, because the tariff bill of 1890 made an automatic process for making treaties. [Laughter and applause.]

Why, when we wanted to make a treaty in the old days we had to go to the Senate. The President negotiated, and it took years to do it. Then it was submitted to the Senate, and every item had to be gone over. The result was that many of our treaties failed; indeed, we have not made a treaty for twenty-five years, except the one with Hawaii, until we made the recent one with Brazil.

You not only have to have the Senate ratify the treaty, but you have got to have revenue legislation on the part of Congress to carry it into operation.

Now, under the new law, if in the judgment of the President of the United States the countries that produce sugar and coffee and tea and hides are not trading fairly and justly with the American people, he makes public proclamation of that fact, and the duties are reimposed upon these articles as against those countries that refuse to treat fairly with the United States. [Applause.]

COAST NEWS.

The State in the Olsen murder trial at Merced so far has not produced testimony of a positive character. The evidence is wholly circumstantial.

The Detroit Copper Company's manganese blue mine at Clifton, A. T., caved in Tuesday and buried one house, the occupants narrowly escaping.

Thomas Ford a young man, has disappeared from Marysville, leaving heavy debts and taking money belonging to the Order of Forestry, of which he was the Financial Secretary.

Andy Mattison was run over and killed by a freight train Tuesday, two miles south of Boulder. He was intoxicated, and the train passed over his body. He had a brother in San Francisco. He was a Russian and was habitually intemperate.

Arthur B. Knox of Kamloops, B. C., has been committed to stand trial on a charge of arson. He is a farmer living in the Kamloops district, and it is alleged that out of spite he fired three stacks of hay, a barn and the residence of Henry Ellis a neighbor with whom he was on unfriendly terms.

The Silver State says: Counsel in the Bliss water suit, unexpected by everybody, announced yesterday that their evidence was all in, and that there was nothing left for them to do but to argue the case, and by stipulation of the counsel the argument will commence in San Francisco on June 10th.
